icarus the collected plays is an excursion into the uniqueness of an individual confronting an indifferent and often hostile universe a demigod time travelers vampires the pioneers of modern day rocketry a magus two young convicts an amateur bodybuilder a murderous alien misfits all of them each of these fifteen plays is a projection of existence with an unusual main character and those within his sphere of influence they are the manipulators of a reality of their own creation this is the third and final novel of the Carlisle trilogy titled The Carlisle Diamond. Warwick Lachlan, the eighteenth Marquis of Cumbria and Galloway, married and brought his bride Lady Marguerite Balfour home to Kilmorgan Castle against the wishes of her family. Marguerite Balfour was not only beautiful and petite but possessed a will of steel when she chose Warwick over objections. Nicola Waltham, daughter of a Texas cattle rancher, grew into a stunning red-headed beauty. She and her parents were ignored totally by her mother's de la Sale family. The murder of Nicola's parents and the loss of all she owned was devastating. To survive, she became a singer/dancer in the saloons of the USA. Nicola married James Lachlan, son of Warwick, in Carlisle Cathedral after a tempestuous relationship to become one of the finest ladies of England. James and Nicola's daughter, Countess Danielle Lachlan, was kidnapped as she drove to her wedding to Regan Meagher in Dublin by French criminals and well-paid members of the IRA. Andrew Lachlan, son of James Lachlan, saved the life of a French-born seductress, Chantelle de Leon. She and her mother separated from her father's family, used their charms to live off what they could extract from the wealthy men of Europe. Andrew knew nothing of Chantelle's life when she deserted him; his heart was broken. She became a spy for the British during the Great War. At the war's end, because she had consorted with Germans, she was considered to be a traitor to France, and this meant death if she was found. She sought out Andrew, the only man she had ever truly loved, even though she knew he would likely reject her. Andrew had two thoughts: choke her or take her to bed. For he still loved her. Nicola, gun in hand, rescued her daughter with the help of a man who had infiltrated the small group of IRA activists. Chantelle married Andrew and, like the two ladies before her, became the Marchioness of Cumbria and Galloway.

Father and son watching Sterling Tenassik play with her three-year-old son Toby, Danielle was struck by how different things could have been. It seemed that underneath Sterling's ruthless bachelor exterior, there was definite potential, and yet four years ago Sterling had made it clear that all he was looking for was a no-strings affair. Danielle had no real reason for thinking that the situation had changed; he might be able to act the part, but Sterling Tenassik was not a family man, which made his interest in Danielle all the more surprising, unless, of course, he'd guessed the truth about Toby.

2010 Prose Award Winner for Nursing Allied Health Sciences; 2010 AJN Book of the Year Award Winner in Public Interest and Creative Works. The accounts are vivid, colorful, descriptive, intense, and often horrific, and give cross-sectional views of life in the trenches during this disaster. This book is a rich primary source for both historians and disaster preparedness planners. It's not only a tribute to the courage of the nurses but should also serve as a guide for policy planners hoping to avoid less than optimal responses to future crises. AJN: The book fascinates simply for its raw documentation of the dreadful events and conditions endured by nurses, doctors, and ancillary staff as they struggled to care for critically ill patients without electricity running water air conditioning systems and other resources five years after the levees broke the horror and chaos of katrina is still fresh in these accounts through the stories readers are transported into the hospitals as nurses heroically work together to evacuate babies from nicus and vented patients from icu try to calm patients family members and coworkers and make do with the equipment and supplies they've got national nurse don't ever think that this can't happen to you you are going to read this and it's going to sound like we created this scenario but this is a real scenario that happened pam memorial medical center everything that was battery operated eventually died there were no monitors we tried to take care of people in the most humane way possible lois lindy boggs medical center nursing in the storm voices from hurricane katrina takes you inside six new orleans hospitals cut off from help for days by flooding where nurses cared for patients around the clock in this book nurses from hurricane katrina share what they did how they coped what they lost and what they are doing now in a city and health care infrastructure still rebuilding still in jeopardy in their own words the nurses tell what happened in each hospital just before during and after the storm danna and cordray provide an intimate portrait of the experience of katrina which they and their colleagues endured just a few of the heroic nurses you'll find inside rae ann and twenty others including her husband and children who wait on a hospital roof for help to come lisa in the midst of caring for patients who has not heard from her husband in 5 days roslyn who has 800 people in her hospital when the power generators shut down linda who uses bed sheets to write out help messages on a hospital roof hoping someone will see them the book also discusses how to plan and prepare for future disasters with a closing chapter documenting the lessons learned from katrina including day to day health care delivery in a city of crisis this groundbreaking work serves as a testament to nurses professionalism perseverance and unwavering dedication jeff and danielle spend their senior year in high school in australia leaving all their worries in the us behind right apparently not australia is keeping them as active as all their years at home adjusting to a new school system proves easier than expected but unanticipated challenges arise the movie they have planned needs much care and consultation and takes a surprising turn and trouble has followed them across half the world and rears its head in unexpected ways on the good side danielle has a boyfriend her first and jeff has a girlfriend not his first but perhaps his next love so many questions are answered but others big ones appear on the horizon on such a huge continent how can the distances be conquered has jeff found his forever love will the true story of jeff and danielle's relationship come out what about their pilot certificates and the movie they want to make university decisions loom and is crime boss owen getting involved in their lives too much way too much
